

Carriden Boatyard

Environmental Policy

The Carriden Boatyard offers a range of services for boat owners in the central and Lothians region. We were established in 1992 and our aim is to be a secure and happy place for boat owners to keep their boats, and work on them.

The owners and workers of the Carriden Boatyard Ltd are committed to providing a high quality workspace which consistently meets our customers' expectations. We are also committed to:

- Protecting the environment and operating in a way to prevent any pollution arising from our activities;
- Integrating environmental considerations into all aspects of our work;
- Continually improving our own environmental performance.

Consequently, an Environmental Management System has been established to ensure compliance with the requirements of BS 8555:2016. Compliance with this Policy is mandatory for all customers of the Carriden Boatyard.

As part of our effort to continuously improve our services and environmental performance we have set the following general aims:

- Work to recycle and reduce the amount of waste we produce and store on site;
- Work to dispose of waste in a responsible and environmentally friendly manner where possible;
- Investigate measures to reduce our energy and water consumption;
- Comply with legal and other requirements.

In addition to the general objectives detailed above, specific measurable objectives are set by the owner and communicated to boatyard users. The owner is committed to providing the resources and equipment to ensure these objectives are met.

This Policy is available to interested parties upon request.
